DESIGNED AROUND THE RHYTHM OF YOUR DAY

How Tarot Fits Into Your Wedding

COCKTAIL HOUR

A lively, low-pressure experience while guests mingle.

RECEPTION

An elegant drop-in lounge woven into dinner and dancing.

GETTING READY SUITE

A private reading for you, your partner, or wedding party.

FAREWELL

A closing message or keepsake before guests head home.

The best format depends on your timeline, guest count, and the feeling you want to create.

What Guests Ask About

Guests do not need to prepare anything in advance. Some arrive with a specific question; others simply ask what deserves their attention right now.

Love & Relationships
Connection, communication, dating, partnership, chosen family, and the relationships that matter most.

Career & Direction
Professional growth, new opportunities, changing priorities, and decisions about what comes next.

Confidence & Decisions
A fresh perspective on a choice, a challenge, or an area where they feel uncertain.

Family & Friendship
Important relationships, boundaries, support, and the people who matter most.

Easy to Join. Meaningful to Receive.

Sign Up
Guests choose an available time and continue enjoying the wedding instead of waiting in line.

Bring a Question - or Don't
They may ask about something specific or begin with a simple guided prompt.

Receive a Personal Reading
Each guest receives a focused one-on-one reading in a warm, welcoming setting.

Return to the Celebration
Guests leave with insight, encouragement, and often a new conversation to share.

Reading length can be adjusted to the event:
Express readings: approximately 4–5 minutes
Signature readings: approximately 8–10 minutes
The tone is always thoughtful, uplifting, and appropriate for a joyful wedding celebration.
